Welcome to the TransIRC Community Wiki

Welcome to the TransIRC Wiki — a living, community-maintained knowledge base for trans and questioning individuals.

This space is dedicated to sharing resources, guides, experiences, and support by and for the trans community. Whether you're looking for information on gender identity, HRT, voice training, digital safety, or just trying to understand where to start — you're in the right place.

What This Wiki Is

- A collaborative library of trans-related knowledge, curated by people like you
- A safe and inclusive space for learning, exploring, and sharing
- A tool to uplift trans voices, experiences, and expertise
- A complement to our IRC network — extending conversations into documentation

This wiki is not a replacement for community or conversation — it's a way to preserve what we've learned and make it easier to find help when you need it.

Who Can Edit

To maintain trust and safety, only users authenticated via NickServ on our IRC network can contribute or edit pages.

- Already registered? Log in using the IRC-linked auth system.
- New here? Join our IRC at web.transirc.chat and register with NickServ:

`/msg NickServ REGISTER <YOUR_NICK> <YOUR_PASSWORD>`

- Prefer not to use an IRC client? You can also register using our web-based form:

→ transirc.chat/webregister.html

After 48 hours, your account will be eligible to edit the wiki.

Getting Started

Check out some of the starting points below:

- Using the IRC Network
- How to Contribute to the Wiki

Need Help?

Hop into #Welcome on our IRC network to get live help, ask questions, or connect with others. Our wiki team and moderators are always around to guide you.

→ Join the community → Open the Web IRC Client

This wiki belongs to you. Help us grow it. Share what helped you. Let’s build the resources we wish we had.

♥ The TransIRC Community

bird was here, test edit

From:
https://wiki.transirc.chat/ - TransIRC.Chat Wiki

Permanent link:
https://wiki.transirc.chat/doku.php?id=start&rev=1747769190

Last update: 2025/05/20 19:26